

Summary info

- Logo: C&O For Progress
- Name: C&O Kanawha & New River Subdivisions
- Owner: Joe Pulsone
- Scale: HO
- Short Description: Currently under construction, this layout depicts the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway in West Virginia circa 1958. The planned two-level railroad features the Kanawha Subdivision on the lower level and the New River Subdivision above and will be connected by a helix. Current construction focuses on the lower level, including Montgomery, Cabin Creek Junction, Dry Branch, and Charleston staging. Operations will emphasize coal traffic, local freight switching, and interchange with the Virginian Railway, with industries including a coal tipple, refinery, chemical plant, and power plant.

